CENTRAL ASIAN NETWORK OF ECONOMICS AND MANAGEMENT

With the support of

ERASMUS MUNDUS

Erasmus Mundus is a cooperation and mobility programme in the field of higher education that aims to enhance the quality of European higher education and to promote dialogue and understanding between people and cultures through cooperation with Third-Countries. In addition, it contributes to the development of human resources and the international cooperation capacity of Higher Education Institutions in Third Countries by increasing mobility between the European Union and these countries.

CENTRAL ASIAN NETWORK OF ECONOMICS AND MANAGEMENT

CANEM

CANEM is a mobility project financed by the ERASMUS MUNDUS Programme, under Action 2: Partnerships with Third Country higher education institutions and scholarships for mobility.

The partnerships in the framework of Erasmus Mundus 2009-2013 are the basis for enhancing academic cooperation and exchanges of students and academics, thus contributing to the socio-economic development of non-EU countries targeted by EU external cooperation policy.

The objective of the CANEM Project is to strengthen the potential of the education system in the field of Business Administration, Economics and Public Administration through mobility grants between Central Asian and European Universities within the consortium. Based on the effects of globalization and integration, multiculturalism and world economy competition, the CANEM partnership responds to the demands of creating strong educational programs in order to benefit the needs of Central Asian (CA) countries in future well educated open-minded and intelligent leaders.

Through the CANEM partnership, the consortium will be able to organize the mobility of 150 CA nationals to EU universities. Each of the 15 CA partner-universities will send to EU partner-universities about 10 individuals (undergraduate, masters, doctoral, post-doc students and academic/administrative staff members). This mobility will have significant impact on the capacity of CA partner universities. The main results of the project will be that knowledge of students and teachers gained in European universities will be distributed and implemented at home universities to enhance the results of the project.

CANEM is the first initiative in promoting mobility primarily in the field of Economics and Management, between Central Asian Universities and European Universities, thus it complements other Erasmus Mundus Partnerships which include fields of study covering technical and engineering areas. This provides further opportunities for students of social and managerial sciences to study in European universities.

The project grants special attention to staff training, both academic and administrative. This training will help the beneficiaries improve their knowledge and skills in Higher Education Institution (HEI) capacity building. Administrative staff will be trained through intensive courses based on the needs of CA partner-universities. In return, the trained administrative staff will be able to apply the gained knowledge by sharing practical solutions with colleagues in their home universities.

PhD and post-doc level candidates will have an excellent ability to enrich their Research and Development (R&D) skills in EU partner-universities by acquiring various innovations, modern methodologies and approaches. MA and BA students will have the opportunity to benefit from the expertise of academic staff and rich learning resources available in EU partner-universities. They will gain a great value for their personal as well as their professional development, increasing their potential and demand in the labour market at their home countries, hence attaining new competences and employability; in addition, Master Students will have the possibility of obtaining an EU Master's degree.

The purpose of the Economics and Management graduate programme is to train students to become proficient in modern economics. Students must master the analytic insights and tools of microeconomics, macroeconomics, and econometrics.

The BA programme aims at stimulating local entrepreneurship by creating a new generation of innovative and socially responsible entrepreneurs in Central Asia through custom-made and practice-oriented study programmes.

CANEM responds to the demands of all the university community and society as a whole by opening a world remarkable opportunities and increasing cooperation between Central Asia and Europe.
